March LMC Newsletter

What's been happening in the library?

Spring Research is about to heat up!

As you begin planning your spring research, please feel free to send me your project/assignment information. I'll be happy to put together some research pathway webpages for your class. Also be sure to schedule your library and lab time!

511 ← # of books currently checked out

Tutorials are here!

We've added video tutorials to the library website. So far we have instructions for using noodletools, literary reference center, and literature resource center.

ELLs and Databases

Two databases (Literature Resource Center and Sirs Issue Researcher) have a tool which allows students to translate an article (after it is found) into a variety of languages. Please let

Contact Us

Kelsey Bogan
Library Media Specialist
kbogan@gvsd.org

Jamie Conrad
Library Secretary jconrad@gvsd.org

Library Website | Submit request for item to be purchased | Online Library Catalog | Pinterest

For the Love of Books....

Spring cleaning in the library gives us the chance to give back to the community. The free books have been a big hit with the students (and staff). It has been a pleasure to see so many students get excited about books, and reading! Although it's sad to let go of a book, they are finding good homes within our community.

GVHS Library is happy to report that we will be contributing to the LEO club's book drive, which will benefit either the City Team in Chester or the VA in Coatesville!

For those wondering, the books being withdrawn are; unnecessary duplicates (ex: we don't need 6 copies of Twilight anymore ☺), older unused books, or older

Ask and you shall receive...

We received a lot of student and staff requests this month! Check out the new additions below.

Mysteries/Suspense

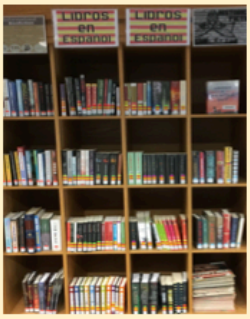
It seems suspense and mysteries are trending with GVHS staff. We've had requests for "Big Little Lies," which the hit HBO show is based on. We've also added "the Cuckoo's Calling," the first book in a series by Robert Galbraith (J.K. Rowling's pseudonym).

Get Graphic!

This year we've had student requests for graphic novels and drawing books, both of which we were able to add to the collection!

Spanish Books

Check out a list of the new Spanish books!



What can I do for you?

Co-teaching

- Common Core places an emphasis on inquiry and deep research projects. Let's collaborate! You teach the content, & I'll teach the research process.

Technology Integration

- Wanting to integrate tech into your lessons? Let me suggest & teach different apps or websites to spice up your projects & presentations. Or let me know if you ever just need another set of hands on deck during a tech-rich lesson. I can come to you.

Literature appreciation

- I love to do book-talking and "book speed dating" events to get students exposed to books they may not have otherwise considered.

Plus anything else you need

- I'm here to help you and our students.